

Dear Alberta Advantage Immigration Program Officer,

I am submitting this Request for Reconsideration for my application, File Number AEE017710, as I respectfully believe an error was made in applying the AAIP employer eligibility criteria and in the handling of the Request for Information issued on my application.

The refusal letter states that the employer providing my Alberta job offer had not been in continuous and active operation in Alberta for a minimum of two complete fiscal years prior to the date my application was submitted.

I respectfully believe this conclusion may have been made in error due to a corporate registry continuity issue involving the employer's Alberta Corporate Access Numbers.

The employer, Devyuga Software Solutions Inc., was originally incorporated in British Columbia as 1381538 B.C. Ltd. on October 5, 2022, under incorporation number BC1381538. The company was registered extra-provincially in Alberta on November 6, 2023, under Alberta Corporate Access Number 2125609244.

The company later changed its legal name from 1381538 B.C. Ltd. to Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. The name change did not create a new business or new operating entity; it was a continuation of the same legal corporation under the same BC incorporation number, BC1381538.

After the name change, Alberta Corporate Registry records also show Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. under a newer Alberta Corporate Access Number, 2126618996, with a registration date of November 8, 2024.

I respectfully believe the refusal may have resulted from assessing only the newer Alberta Corporate Access Number 2126618996, instead of reviewing the full corporate continuity from the original Alberta registration under 2125609244. The newer registration record should be reviewed together with the original Alberta extra-provincial registration record because the business had already been registered and operating in Alberta since 2023.

The Employer Support Letter submitted with my application confirmed that Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. expanded operations to Alberta in November 2023, was formally registered in Alberta on November 6, 2023, and has maintained a continuous and active business presence in Alberta since November 2023. The employer has also filed taxes and maintained supporting corporate, financial, payroll, and operational records for its Alberta business activities.

In addition, there appears to have been a procedural error in the handling of the Request for Information. On May 5, 2026 at 1:44 PM, AAIP issued a Request for Information asking me to submit the Employer Declaration and Authorization form, with a deadline of May 12, 2026. However, on the same day at 2:33 PM, only 49 minutes later, I received a decision letter declining my application.

Because the application was marked as declined before the RFI deadline, I was unable to upload the requested Employer Declaration and Authorization form through the AAIP portal.

I am including the completed Employer Declaration and Authorization form in this reconsideration package because this was the document specifically requested by AAIP before the refusal decision. This document is not being submitted as unrelated new evidence. It is being provided because AAIP requested it through the RFI, but I was prevented from uploading it when the application was declined before the stated May 12, 2026 deadline.

This request is not asking for an exemption or exception to AAIP criteria. I am respectfully requesting reconsideration because:

1. The employer operation requirement appears to have been applied based on an incomplete corporate registry review, specifically the newer Alberta Corporate Access Number rather than the full corporate continuity from the original Alberta registration; and
2. The application was finalized before the May 12, 2026 RFI deadline, preventing me from submitting the Employer Declaration and Authorization form requested by AAIP.

I respectfully request that AAIP overturn the refusal decision, restore the application for continued assessment, and assess the employer's eligibility based on the full corporate history, including the original Alberta registration under Corporate Access Number 2125609244, the current Alberta record under 2126618996, and the completed Employer Declaration and Authorization form that was requested before the refusal decision.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Lokesh Kumar

DEVYUGA SOFTWARE SOLUTIONS INC

Date: May 7, 2026

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is provided in support of Lokesh Kumar's application under the AAIP.

I am writing as the Director/CEO of Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. to clarify the company's corporate registry history, Alberta registration records, and continuous active operations in Alberta.

The company was originally incorporated in British Columbia as 1381538 B.C. Ltd. on October 5, 2022, under BC incorporation number BC1381538.

The company was registered as an extra-provincial corporation in Alberta on November 6, 2023, under Alberta Corporate Access Number 2125609244. Following this registration, the company began and maintained active business operations in Alberta.

The company later changed its legal name from 1381538 B.C. Ltd. to Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. This was a name change only and did not create a new business, new operating entity, or separate corporation. The company continued as the same legal entity under the same BC incorporation number, BC1381538.

After the name change, Alberta Corporate Registry records also show Devyuga Software Solutions Inc. under Alberta Corporate Access Number 2126618996, with a registration date of November 8, 2024.

For clarity, the two Alberta Corporate Access Numbers relate to the same business continuity:

Record	Legal Name	Alberta Corporate Access Number	Alberta Registration Date
Original Alberta registration	1381538 B.C. Ltd.	2125609244	November 6, 2023
Current/name-updated Alberta record	Devyuga Software Solutions Inc.	2126618996	November 8, 2024

Email: info@devyuga.com

Phone: +1 (587) 937-4544

Website: www.devyuga.com

DEVYUGA SOFTWARE SOLUTIONS INC

The newer Alberta Corporate Access Number should not be interpreted as the start date of the company's Alberta operations. The company's Alberta registration and operations began under the original Alberta registration dated November 6, 2023, and continued after the name change to Devyuga Software Solutions Inc.

Since November 2023, the company has maintained continuous and active business operations in Alberta. The company has filed taxes and maintained supporting corporate, financial, payroll, client, and operational records for its Alberta business activities.

Lokesh Kumar has been employed with the company as a Marketing & Communications Specialist, NOC 11202, since January 1, 2024, on a full-time, permanent basis. His employment supports the company's ongoing Alberta operations, business development, marketing, and client engagement activities.

I respectfully request that AAIP review the employer's eligibility based on the full corporate continuity, including the original Alberta extra-provincial registration under Corporate Access Number 2125609244, the current/name-updated Alberta record under 2126618996, and the company's continuous active operations in Alberta since 2023.

Should you require any additional clarification or supporting documents, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Ashwani Singla
